Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-2, 5-6, 8, 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by D'Alayer de Costemore d'Arc (US 5,956,310). D'Alayer de Costemore d'Arc discloses (as per claim 1) a disk loading apparatus for a disk drive, as shown mainly in FIG. 6-7 including: a main body 10; and a tray 96 including a disk-seating portion 36 configured to be rotated inside and outside the main body about a center of rotation located at one side of the main body (see FIG. 7); a disk guide unit 112/114/106/108 provided on the tray 96 and the main body 10 and configured to cause a disk to be loaded and unloaded according to a rotating motion of the tray portion/disk-seating portion 36, wherein for at least a portion of the movement of the tray from a closed position to an open position, a disk-loading position determined by the disk guide unit, e.g., element 108 of tray portion 36 is configured to move relative to the tray 96 (see col. 8, lines 8-41 and FIGS. 6-7) and is considered to meet the language “wherein at least a portion of an edge of the tray has a same end portion of an edge of the tray has substantially a same end as and does not protrude beyond an edge of a disk seated in the disk-seating portion” as FIG. 7 clearly shows a dashed phantom line of the outer diameter of the disc, such that the disc does not protrude beyond an edge of a disk seated in the disk-seating portion; (as per claim 2) further comprising a drive device configured to rotate the tray 1; wherein the drive unit comprises: a driving motor 119 mounted on a main base (see FIGs. 6-7) and rotate in a forward or reverse direction and a power transmission unit, e.g., including at least elements 112,114,120,122,126 configured to transmit driving force from the driving motor to the tray 36/96; wherein the power transmission unit comprises at least one gear 112/114 (see also col. 8, lines 42-63; (as per claim 5) wherein a rack gear, e.g., 114 (FIG. 2), having a predetermined radius of curvature (as shown) formed on a bottom surface of the tray portion 36 and configured to engage with the driving gear 114 of the power transmission unit; (as per claim 6) wherein the center of rotation 2 of the tray is located at a front end of the main body as shown by FIG. 7; (as per claim 8) wherein a predetermined gap, e.g., unspecified space, is formed between the tray and the main body on a side of the tray adjacent the center of rotation, i.e., the tray and main body is not integrally formed therefore a “gap” necessarily exists therebetween; (as per claim 18) wherein the apparatus 10 is a disk drive, e.g., a CD player.

Response to Amendments & Argument

3. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-2, 5-6, 8, 18 have been considered but are moot in view of the new grounds of rejection.

A...Newly cited reference to D'Alayer de Costemore d'Arc, is considered to encompass the newly amended limitations, as discussed, supra.

B...Applicant's remarks with respect to dependent claims 2, 5-6, 8 &18, fail to comply with 37 CFR 1.111(b) (c) because they amount to a general allegation that the claims define a patentable invention without specifically pointing out how the language of the claims patentably distinguishes them from the references, and because they do not clearly point out the patentable novelty which he or she thinks the claims present in view of the state of the art disclosed by the references cited or the objections made. Further, they do not show how the amendments avoid such references or objections.

Conclusion

4. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
